OTOMI INDIAN EMBROIDERY
TENANGO — MEXICO

THESE THINGS TAKE TIME

Olli is a luxury craft company that values technique and tradition.

Contemporary limited editions are inspired by a chosen craft or material and produced by master craftspeople.

Each piece aims to communicate the energy of the handmade.

THREE MONTHS

A range of comfortable hand embroidered loungers, big enough for two people. Vibrant colors, motives inspired from nature and a perfect balance of negative and positive space represents the embroidery style of the Otomi indians of Hidalgo, Mexico.

The traditional motives are sketched freehand onto the fabric, then the pattern is hand embroidered in cotton thread using a 'false satin' stitch.

Each lounger is unique and takes three months to embroider. The result is joyful, textured and organic, the ideal focal point for a modern interior or for a space that requires a casual seating solution.

STURDY LEATHER CARRYING HANDLES ARE REINFORCED WITH EXTRA LARGE COPPER RIVETS.

LARGE BRASS CUSTOM DYED ZIPPERS SEPARATE THE EMBROIDERED FABRIC COVER FROM THE LEATHER BOTTOM TO ALLOW FOR DRY CLEANING OR HAND WASHING.

EACH LOUNGER IS SIGNED BY THE EMBROIDERER AND IS LABELLED WITH ITS OLLI SERIES NUMBER AND A DESCRIPTION OF WHERE IT WAS EMBROIDERED.
